

food for thought

Accent Catering is a truly enlightened contract caterer that moves in learned circles. This innovative service provider is a strong believer in feeding the mind, which is why forward-thinking educational establishments now represent such a significant slice of this thriving food business's clientele.

In a world of so many unhealthy, quick-fix food solutions, Accent provides students and tutors alike with access to fantastic nutritious food made from the finest seasonal ingredients.

Accent chefs aren't hampered by any inflexible supplier lists. This frees them to establish strong meaningful liaisons with local suppliers who meet only the most stringent criteria for the finest ingredients.

A simple 'from scratch' philosophy married to the latest cooking techniques and an insatiable appetite to do the right thing (sustainable sourcing, biodegradable packaging, free-range eggs, a resident consultant dietician, organic poultry and dairy produce) ensures that Accent Catering is perfectly placed to enrich the academic experience you offer your customers by putting premium quality food at the top of the menu.
